Preparing for the Audition

- A nice neat appearance (form-fitting dancewear that does not have to be ballet attire, neat hair pulled away from the face, and light, nice makeup) is recommended. No baggy clothing including sweatshirts will be allowed in the audition room.
- Dancers should wear jazz shoes for the audition. Director/judges take former training into consideration.

What to Bring & Things to Remember

- Properly labeled water bottle.
- Dancers should wear jazz shoes and bring tennis shoes for ADC.
- DancElite Auditions are closed! ABSOLUTELY no spectators are allowed in the building. Dancers will enter and check-in through the back entrance and exit to carline/cars out the front.

What NOT to Bring

- Dance bags.
- Smartphones, AirPods, and other expensive items.
- Food, candy, sodas.

ALL existing CKDW accounts must be current to be eligible for the auditions.

The audition fee includes a deposit that will be applied to your dance account once you accept the spot offered to your dancer. A lot of work goes into planning groups for so many dancers. This fee is used as a deterrent for dancers who audition and do not accept the offered spot due to various circumstances. If your child is not selected for a spot on one of the DancElite or ADC teams, CK will refund the deposit portion of the audition fee(s) paid. There are ABSOLUTELY no refunds otherwise.
